Council opts for unconditional funding

Elk Point Town Council decided last week to change their FCSS grant from conditional to unconditional status, on the reasoning that unconditional funding is paid quarterly, rather than the twice yearly for conditional funding. This would be advantageous to the Town's cash flow, and does not mean that the FCSS program will change, Mayor Buck indicated.

A concern regarding heating at the water treatment plant was voiced by Councillor Danny Povaschuk, who recently visited the plant and who noted there was only one furnace in the building. If it were to malfunction, Povaschuk suggested the plant could be severely damaged. The mayor felt this was an excellent point, and directed Public Works to look into the addition of another furnace.

Council discussed and passed the new agreement with the County of St. Paul on the sanitary landfill site, adding in an amendment restricting the maximum hours of operation to 24 hours per week.

Two delegations visited Council, the first being Bill Van Leeuwen, who offers computerized drafting service, and the second being Ken Yettaw from the County of St. Paul, who told Council about the County's joint agreement with the Town of St. Paul regarding safety code inspections. The two jurisdictions are making a joint application to set inspection codes, and asked if the Town of Elk Point would like to become a third partner. Yettaw said the document basically states that the jurisdictions will have identical standards, and that inspections will be done by either a safety code inspector from these jurisdictions or an accredited agency inspector. Yettaw noted that the average home construction requires up to 9 inspections, although these can be doubled up. He is accredited to do plumbing, gas and building inspections, and the County plans to have an electrical inspector as well. The Town of Elk Point plans to have their own staff accredited for fire and building inspections. The cost of inspections, regardless of who does them, will be passed on to the building owner.

Town Manager Curt Svendsen reported that the ambulance service had had a good month and did not require any subsidy payment to be made.

Council's next meeting is on Tuesday, April 18, due to Easter Monday.

Chamber morning meeting snowed out?

The 7:30 a.m. meeting time, combined with a heavy overnight snowfall, resulted in only five people turning up for the April 5 Chamber of Commerce meeting. Even those who had asked for the early meeting time were unable to attend.

Without a quorum, it was impossible to take any action on the somewhat lengthy agenda, however informal discussion of physician recruitment and other matters pertaining to hospital staffing took place, and those present heard a brief report on the Tourism Industry Association of Alberta conference. It was also reported that 29 memberships have been sold to date.

The balance of the agenda will have to wait for Chamber's next regular meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, April 19 at 12:00 noon.

Forts volunteers honored

Volunteers associated with Fort George-Buckingham House Interpretive Centre were honored with an Appreciation Day on Sunday, April 9. Site Manager Karen Doyle welcomed the honored guests, and told the volunteers that without their efforts, many of the the projects and activities at the site would not be possible. "There are so many things we owe you thanks for."

Area Manager Barry Manchak brought greetings from Minister Gary Mar. Manchak has been visiting this area for approximately 20 years, and was involved with the designation of Ross, Whitney and Laurier Lakes as a provincial park. "Since then, I keep coming back for my own pleasure."

Manchak recognized Frank Mayner, chair of both the site's Advisory Board and the Friends of the Forts, and said that the latter group's recent meeting included "very positive discussions.... and ideas for the future." He applauded the hard work and tremendous commitment of the site's volunteers, and told them that without their efforts, "we would not be able to continue much of what happens here." Upcoming projects include ground marking at Buckingham House, the addition of more interpretive signage, and creation of a special events area near the Interpretive Centre itself.

The Advisory Board has been doing a lot of planning for promotion and marketing, Manchak said. A vacation planner insert in the AMA West World magazine will highlight this and other historic sites. The Friends assisted in the Kalyna Country booth at the Edmonton Home and Garden Show recently.

Manchak feels these activities "will bring lots of people to the areas, and contribute to the economic strength of the community. The future is very bright, if we collectively play a role."

Frank Mayner told those present that the Advisory Board is made up of a cross section of the community and surrounding area, which "tries to figure out where we're going, and advise the Minister." He invited everyone to join the Friends, and noted that that group had just received a $16,000 grant which will help to make the site more self-sufficient, making possible self-directed tours.

As the presentation of appreciation certificates got underway, Ms Doyle noted that this was the first time the Advisory Board had been formally recognized, and that thanks were long overdue for present and past members, who included: Frank Mayner, Sid Holthe, Ed Buck(

Canada Day 1995 planning gets underway

Elk Point's Canada Day Committee got to work last week to begin planning the gigantic celebration for Canada's 128th birthday, July 1.

The theme, "We Remember," was chosen for this year's event, and will give participants and planners a lot of scope.

The A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee is involved in the planning process, and have agreed to sell food and beverages during the afternoon stage show, which will take place in the arena.

Two groups of special guests have been contacted and expressed a willingness to be part of the parade. The Canadian Forces Pipe Band from Cold Lake will be sent a letter of confirmation, as will the Vegreville Sopilka Ukrainian Dance group. The latter will also be part of the stage show.

The Decorated Bicycle Contest was a popular part of last year's parade, and will take place again, with two age categories this year.

In keeping with the theme, the committee has decided to honor a long time resident of the community as part of the celebration. Nominations for the resident to be honored may be sent to the Canada Day Committee, Box 352, Elk Point.

Nominations are also being sought at the same address for Miss Canada Day, a young lady who would help with various functions during the celebration.

Due to Canada Day being on Saturday this year, the Canada Day Gospel Concert will be held on Sunday, July 2, with special guest performers, Ken Jackson and family, coming from Calgary for that event.

The next Canada Day meeting is Wednesday, May 3.

Forts volunteers honored

Larry Demchuk, Allan Frankiw, John Hutton, Billie Milholland, Dan Povaschuk, Charles Singer, Bob Smith, Sheila Thompson and John Zenko.

Also honored were Friends Society members Pat Johnson, Louis Verhagen, Peggy Zaraska, Carol Hellquist, Erna Holliday, Debbie Kilby, Gail Kozicky, Irene Magnusson, Jeanne May, Marjorie Robinson, Roy Scott and Vicki Brooker.

Sid Holthe added a vote of thanks for the Chamber of Commerce, Town and Historical Society members who pursued development of the site for over 30 years, whose names and faces may be forgotten, but whose accomplishments and efforts led to the development of the site.

The site volunteers included Geoff Burtonshaw, Donna Dahmer, John Dolphin, Chad Doyle, Camille Deusener, Mabel Dumont, Colleen Emmott, Tammy Etherington, Joan Fitzpatrick, Greg Franke, Ted Ganske, Robert Holliday, Jeff Kurtz, Albert Livingstone, Dorothy and Vic Malinowski, Doreen Mayner, Ron Onusko, Red Renauld, George Reid, Walter Roland, Lynn Wallace, Ed Zaraska, Dianna Wabie and Rusty Douglas.

Corporate sponsors who were recognized were Dr. Jonathan Adams, Dave's Pizza, E-Can Oilfield Services, Pan Canadian Petroleum, Toronto Dominion Bank, Woody's Trophy and Gift, and Shamrock Valley Enterprises.

Following the presentations, entertainment was provided by Homer Poitras. The afternoon also included door prize draws

Should health care workers be tested for HIV or other infectious diseases that can be transmitted through blood?

The Alberta Government believes patients and health care workers should not be exposed to any unnecessary risk of contracting infectious diseases while receiving or providing health services. A committee, that includes members of the public as well as infectious disease experts, is examining current preventive measures to ensure they are adequate. The committee is reviewing the latest scientific information on communicable disease transmission. The effectiveness, ethical considerations, legality, costs and practicality of mandatory testing are some of the issues also being explored.

We want your views.

The committee is seeking input from Albertans on these matters. If you wish your views to be considered please send your comments to:

National Volunteer Week: saluting citizens who get involved

April 23 to 29 is National Volunteer Week - a time to pay tribute to the millions of individuals who donate their time and expertise to help individuals, communities and causes. What do you have planned for your volunteers?

Volunteering is about taking time to help other people. It's about working with others who share a common concern. It's about putting your values and your beliefs into action, sometimes quietly and sometimes boldly.

Who are the volunteers? Men and women of all ages and from all backgrounds. For the most part they are average Canadians who are juggling jobs and families, recently unemployed, attending school or retired. They are your colleagues, your neighbors, your friends and your family members.

Volunteering is not a recent phenomenon. The offering of time for the good of the community without expecting to receive money in return can be traced back to the very beginning of our history as a nation. Yesterday's volunteers pioneered many of the services we take for granted today.

In the 1990s, volunteers are the lifeblood of countless voluntary organizations that provide programs and services we have come to depend on. Now, more than ever, our communities need the help of volunteers. And by all accounts, Canadians are rising to meet this challenge.

PUBLIC INFORMATION MEETING

You are invited to help develop a plan for Children's Services in the Elk Point region.

In November 1994, Mike Cardinal, Minister of Family and Social Services, announced delivery of Children's Services would be transferred to the community (ie. child welfare and protection, handicapped children's services, daycare, family violence prevention, etc.)

In response to this, the Office of the Commissioner of Services for Children will host an information meeting in Elk Point to explain the planning process in greater detail. Be involved and learn more about this new direction in planning and delivering Children's Services, by attending the information meeting scheduled for Elk Point.

The public meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 26 at 7:00 p.m. at the Elk Point Seniors' Centre.

WELCOME

A special welcome to the Arnold, Casper, Holmes, Falls and Hamel families who have recently moved to Elk Point. We hope you will enjoy the facilities, hospitality, services and friendships that the Elk Point community can offer. Please welcome these families when you see them!

THE ECONOMIC CINTRIBUTION OF VOLUNTEER WEEK

It is sometimes very useful for a voluntary organization to be able to calculate the value of volunteer time donated to it or to the volunteer sector as a whole.

Such calculations can gain public good will by showing the hard dollar value of the volunteer sector's contribution to the community. They can also help potential contributors and funding agencies appreciate the cash value of the non-money resources contributed to a project by the community.

One way to demonstrate the economic value of volunteer work is to calculate the number of full-time, year-round positions (person-years) which the volunteer hours would equal. To determine this:

1. Estimate the total number of volunteer hours donated to your organization over the past 12 months.

2. Divide this number by the average working year. According to 1993 Stats Canada, this number in 1993 was 1,689.6 hours for workers in Canada working in community, business and personal services.

This figure is the number of full-time, year-round jobs your organization provides to the community on a volunteer basis.

A second way to estimate the economic value of volunteer labor is to determine how much it would cost to pay for the same amount of work in the paid labor force. To estimate the total dollar value of volunteer work in your organization:

1. Estimate the total number of volunteer hours donated to your organization over the past 12 months.

2. Multiply this number by the average Alberta hourly wage in community, business and personal services.

Obviously, average wage rates in the economy do not remain the same from year to year. To update the wage figures, contact the Employment, Earnings and Hours Branch of Statistics Canada at (403)495-3127.

In 1993 FCSS conducted a survey and it was established that Elk Point citizens volunteered over 152,915 hours. At $5.00 an hour this is equivalent to $764,575 that was contributed to our community. I'm sure the number of hours and dollar value has increased over the past two years. Way to go, volunteers!

BOUQUETS

A big bouquet to all the businesses for their generosity in contributing to the Welcome Package. And a special welcome to new Welcome Package volunteers, Frank and Doreen Mayner, who have started delivering the Welcome Packages to new residents to familiarize them with the services, programs and opportunities available in our community. The Welcome Packages contain community directories, discount coupons, maps, complimentary items and more. Once again, a big thank you to the following businesses who so generously contributed to the Welcome Packages: AADAC, Dr. Adams, Alberta Wheat Pool, C>Prompt, Can-Safe, Cranberry Creek Ranch and Trees, Crisis Centre, Dave's Pizza, Elk Point Gas, Elk Point Insurance, Elk Point Review, Empress Restaurant, Footprints, Golden Loaf Bakery, Higgins Travel, Hillside Turbo, Jeannine's, Larry's InstaTree, Library, Dr. Mc Neilly, Millie's Flowers, Northern Lights Library System, Dr. Ramful, Sew'n' Knit Shoppe, Stedmans, Tags, The Cutting Edge, Toronto Dominion Bank, Town of Elk Point, Treasury Branch, Ultimate Auto Glass and Upholstery, and Woody's Trophy and Gifts.

Season of rebirth

Easter is upon us, a celebration of the victory of life over death, a season of rebirth and resurrection, a season of hope.

At the end of a long winter, we need that hope. Along with ice and snow, we have endured cutbacks and threats of closure, threats of loss of service, and all sorts of uncertainties, and have been left feeling as discouraged and downhearted as the dead grey grasses which have emerged with the snow's retreat.

But look closer: under all those matted and faded leaves, a green shoot appears. There is new life emerging, and where there is life, there is hope.

The message of Easter is one of faith, and we must have faith in the future, faith that all the hardship was not in vain. That faith will help us sprout new enthusiasm and new ideas, and overcome the odds to send forth courageous blossoms, showing the world that we are alive and well, and coping with it all.

Have a very special Easter.

Financing your small business: how to get started with your banker

By J. Lang Ellison, BComm., BSc (Agric), PAg
Manager, Toronto Dominion Bank

In a previous article we discussed all of the information you would need to provide to your banker. Now you need to find a banker that's right for you. This means a bank which offers the range of financial services that you need now (or are likely to need) at a price that makes sense.

Here are five check-points you should have on your list:

1. Look for a banker with whom you feel comfortable. Listen to your instincts and pay attention to personal chemistry. If you don't "take" to your banker, you are going to find it difficult to confide when you should and accept advice when you should. Often a referral from a business associate is the best way to start the process.

2. Seek out a convenient branch which has considerable expertise in providing business services. Determine whether the branch is genuinely interested in providing both your personal and business banking needs.

3. Look into services your banker offers. Most financial institutions offer a wide range of support services for small business. Consider all of your current and future needs. For example, in addition to a term or operating loan, do you need other business credit services, such as letters of credit, leasing loans or government guaranteed loans?

What about business deposit services? Do you need current and savings accounts, term deposit accounts or access to automated banking machines?

And what about cash management services? Some of these are designed to help small businesses handle day-to-day operating tasks. Examples are computerized payroll services, automatic funds transfer and electronic services such as transaction activity delivered via your personal computer. Also check into the possibility of obtaining a business service plan, which can provide a package of services covering most of your day-to-day needs for a flat monthly fee.

4. Look around for financing terms. Check into collateral requirements, service fees, loan limits and so on. Look for favorable terms but keep in mind that the cheapest might not be the best. Consider interest rates, for example. If you have a choice between taking a fixed-rate loan at 11 percent or a floating rate with a current interest rate of 10 1/2 percent, which should you choose? You shouldn't opt for the lower rate before you weigh the risk. The fixed-rate loan may cost more today, but where will the floating interest rate be tomorrow? Look into all the options and factors.

5. Ask about collateral. Most bankers will require some or all of the following: personal guarantees, assignment of accounts receivable, pledges of life insurance, or a mortgage on real property (such as a house). Which mix suits your banker - and your circumstances - best?

Finding out the answers to these questions will assist you in determining the types of banking services you need as well as help establish a comfortable relationship with your banker from the beginning. For more information on getting started with your banker, obtain a TD Business Planner, a comprehensive financial planning guide, by calling TD's Green Infoline at 1-800-387-2092.

Models shine in Heinsburg

By David Daniels
Heinsburg School reporter

All the stars were out in Heinsburg on March 23 at the Heinsburg fashion show. Well, maybe they're not stars yet but many seem to be headed that way.

The clothes that were modelled came from stores in St Paul, the Red Bird Clothing Company, Bailey's Western Wear, Reitmans and Co-op. The usage of clothes was greatly appreciated by all the people involved in the fashion show.

Even though most of the models were from our school, there were also models from St. Paul and from as far away as Winnipeg, Manitoba. All of the models did a really good job, they presented themselves and the fashions they were showing very well.

The MC of the show was Ms Najmeddine who was also one of the organizers of the show. She has just finished her time at our school, because Mrs. Vinge is back from maternity leave.

Fashions weren't the only thing on display, some of our local singing talent was as well. There was Mrs. Audrey Rainey performing "Over the Rainbow," which she did beautifully, Angie Durocher sang "Over My Shoulder" very nicely, Courtnee Bintz sang an entertaining song called "Sing A Rainbow," and Mr. Shannon Leskiw, well, he did a really good Elvis Presley imitation, and sang "Blue Suede Shoes."

The night was a big success and was well attended. Hopefully Heinsburg School can continue to have more shows like this in the years to come.

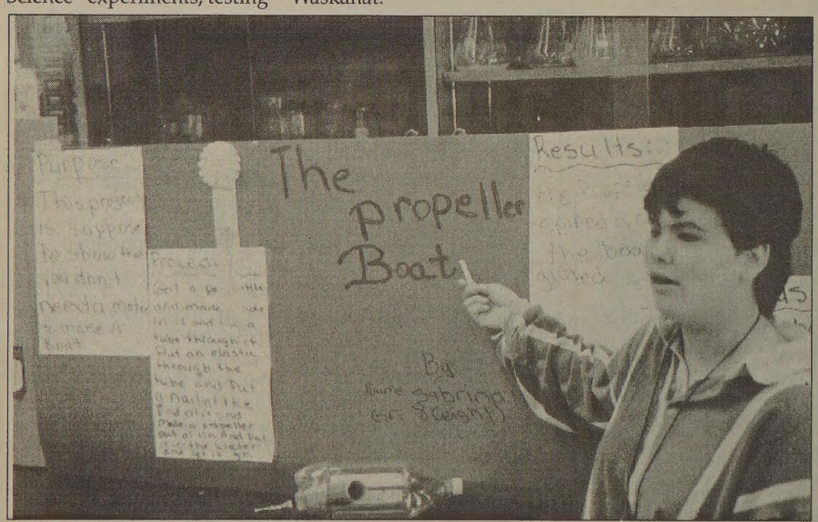
Grade 9: 1. "Effects of Smoking" - Romeo Waskahat; 2. "Getting Nowhere" - Stuart Quinney; 3. "Conductors" - Adrienne Waskahat.

The 1995 Over-All Science Fair Winner was Norman Quinney with his remarkable Electric Pencil. His pencil will etch metal more efficiently and more permanently than commercial tool engravers.

The Runner-up was Romeo Waskahat with his educational display on the Effects of Smoking. Romeo's automatic "smoker" vividly showed the tars and chemicals that a smoker inhales. Romeo made good use of his project, showing it off to any smoker that he could drag into the lab for a demonstration!

A very hearty congratulations to all exhibitors. Completing a project is to be a winner! Well done!



THE PROPELLER BOAT - was displayed by Sabrina Moyah, who placed third in the Grade 8 category.

Interdenominational gospel concert a success

By Ruth Vogel
Elk Point Christian Church

The Interdenominational Gospel Concert held in the Elk Point Elementary School April 2 was a huge success.

The large audience (160 plus) was well entertained by the following participants: Wanda Woycenko, Eunice Woycenko, Sherry Oszust, Gaby Bayduza, Marge Heffernan, the Roman Catholic Church choir, Bev Flamond, Elsie and Francis Whiskeyjack and Emma Gladue; the Johnson family; John Bennett; Audrey Rainey; Henry Botting, Grace Meger and Franklin Wolters; Garuonsky sisters, Bill Adrian and Randy Jennings; Christy Werstiuk and the Elk Point Christian Church Music Team.

Francis, Elsie, Bev, Emma and the Johnson family were our featured guests. Give young Ben Johnson any instrument and he will make fantastic music. Karen Johnson (a ventriloquist) brought Clementine along with her and presented the children with a story.

The Elk Point Christian Church would like to thank Don Conrad for his help setting up, Joe Brunner for MCing, the Johnson family for the use of their music system and managing the equipment, and a special thanks to all the participants who made this such an enjoyable afternoon.

The 1885 Frog Lake Uprising took place on April 2, not April 1. Also, the final sentence of the third paragraph should read "Was he among the unidentified bodies..." rather than IDENTIFIED. Our apologies to Bob Hendriks and our readers for these typographical errors.

What's News at the Library

Information System now accessible

By Michele Duczek
Librarian

The library just had the Company Information System (CIS) installed on two computers. This program is designed to provide information on businesses and services in the area. CIS has information from various communities in northeast Alberta. Come in and take a look. Newcomers as well as long-time residents will be amazed at the variety of businesses and services that are available in our area. The system is simple to use and easy to learn. You can even print off the results to take with you.

Also new to the library are a few music cassettes. For country music fans we have cassettes from Pam Tillis, Garth Brooks, Mary Chapin Carpenter and Travis Tritt. Rock fans might enjoy the Rolling Stones, Guns 'n' Roses and Pearl Jam. Kids of all ages might like Sharon, Lois and Bram, The Lion King soundtrack or Kermit, Unpigged. A highlight of the last tape is Miss Piggy and Ozzy Osbourne dueting on "Born to be Wild." Finally, for all those highly patriotic people out there who just can't get enough of our national anthem, there is O Canada. This tape features one side of instrumental versions of our national anthem and one side of vocal versions. Artists include the Canadian Brass and the Nylons.

The Kids' Nature Almanac by Alison Smith. This is a month-by-month guide that can help parents and young children understand nature and explore science. With spring on the way, nature will soon be busting out all over and there will be plenty of things to discover.

November of the Heart by LaVyrle Spencer. This is an addition to our large print collection. Lorna Barnett is a heiress from St. Paul (Minnesota) and Jens Harken is a kitchen worker with dreams of designing and building racing boats. Their relationship never should have happened but it did.

LIBRARY CALENDAR

Friday, April 14 and Saturday, April 15 - Library closed for Easter weekend.

Friday mornings - 10:30 a.m. is Storytime. Come out for stories, crafts and more.

Students enjoy Spring Break ski trip

By Kelly Oszust
F. G. Miller High reporter

Over the spring break some of the F. G. Miller students had the chance to go on a ski trip to Marmot Basin in Jasper. The cost was $265 per person, which included meals, accommodations, ski rentals, lift tickets and bus fare.

Accompanying the students were supervisors, Miss Ross, Ms Poulin, Mr. Lorenson and Miss Huber. "We had a fantastic time, everybody was wonderful and the skiing was great," said Miss Ross. Needless to say, the trip was a success! For the four days that they were there the weather was exceptional and the skiing conditions were great.

They left on Tuesday Morning, March 28, and skied Wednesday, Thursday, and on Friday they skied and returned home. Twenty-six people in all attended the ski trip, and all stayed in one room at the Jasper Activity Centre. From speaking to some of the students, I found out that nobody got much sleep. It's amazing how they had enough energy to ski all day. But, I guess they did, and had a great time.

Crusaders collect year-end awards

Elk Point Senior Girls Crusaders held their 1995 Basketball Awards Night last Thursday, receiving congratulations and plaques from their proud coach, Ray Danyluk, on what Danyluk called "all in all, an excellent season" in which they had "experienced a lot of good basketball."

Danyluk thanked team members' parents for their strong support in all aspects of the season, and gave special recognition to Doug and Betty Callbeck, who made it possible for the girls to have warmup suits for the Provincials. He also thanked school secretary Donna Gulayec (in absentia) and principal Jim Hawkins on behalf of the team for all their assistance.

Hawkins thanked the team for "a wonderful season. When the year started, we knew it would be a good team, but when new players moved in, it became a great team."

Members of this SPAA- and Zone-winning team are:

Michelle Hillebrand - Most Improved Shooter, who scored 66 points in this, her first year with the team.

Vania Sanregret - Most Improved First Year Player, who started her basketball career this year without playing in junior high.

Amanda Sanregret - Most Improved Rebounder, a second year player who had a 10 point game against Saddle Lake.

Melissa Easthope - Most Improved Foul Shooter, who shot "very much positionally correct."

Shanna Baker - Most Versatile Player, scoring 66 points in 10 games, and in 3rd place for free throws.

Tina Henderson - Quickest Player on the team, with a 14 point game against Vilna and a 117 point season spanning 30 games.

Felina Kinjerski - Most Valuable 3 Point Shooter, with her highest scoring game 23 points against Glendon, and a 124 point year.

Raegan Croteau - Most Improved on Defence, scored 151 points during the season and got the most fouls while doing an excellent job.

Donna Pinder - Hardest Working and Most Dedicated Team Member, scored 242 points and is "undoubtedly one of the best layup artists in the northeast."

Jill West - Most Improved Swing and Point Guard, scored 182 points and controlled the ball very well, 3rd highest at turnovers.

Tammy Sieben - Most Improved Low Post Player, had a serious injury but came back and improved, doing a superb job at Provincials, having a 139 point year.

Denise Dreilick - Defensive Player of the Year, also excellent on offence, scored 29 points against Assumption, 24 against BCHS and had seven 22 point games and a total of 661 points, 18.89 per game.

Bonnie West - Offensive Player of the Year, with 29 points against Lord Beaverbrook, 29 against Regional, she led the scoring with 663 points, 18.9 per game, and was second in turnovers and rebounds.

Robyn Danyluk - Rookie of the Year in her first year of High School ball, scored 13 points against Vauxhall and 12 against Forest Lawn, Ashmont and Mallaig, totalling 309 points.

Renee Anderson - MVP for the Year, was MVP of the Grand Centre tournament and made the Allstar team in the Lakeland League, scored 27 points at Lamont and a total of 505 points during the year. Teammates said she "held the team together," "always played with heart," "controlled the games very well and controlled our team," "was great offensively and defensively," and "had an awesome shot."

Betty Callbeck told the team that she and her husband hope to keep sponsoring them, and presented warmup suits to two players who are graduating this year, Bonnie West and Renee Anderson.

Thank you gifts were presented to the Callbecks and to coach Danyluk by the team.
